LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

ROCK COUNTY BANK.—This institution will be removed from their old quarters, on the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets, on Saturday afternoon, to a room in Myers' new block, east of the main entrance, opposite the post office, where they will be ready to do business on Monday morning.

The building in which this bank is now situated is to give place to the new and splendid block of Jackson & Smith, which they are to erect this season. The bank has been fortunate in securing a fine location in this new block, next to the river, and when completed, will have one of the most elegant and convenient banking rooms in the state. It will be 21 feet wide by 52 feet long. Within this space will be included the banking room, director's room, a bed room, and the money vault. The latter will be made very secure. Six feet of it will be below the level of the river, and constructed of whole blocks of stone, each large enough for a side, top or bottom, thus making an enclosure of solid stone. Outside of this will be solid walls of brick work, all built in a substantial and thorough manner, making it entirely fire and burglar proof. The room will be finished in good style, according to a plan drawn by E. Boyington of Chicago, and G. Neileton of this city, whose excellent taste, and the well known liberality of the proprietors of the new block, are a sufficient guarantee that when the Rock County Bank occupies its new quarters, it will have a banking office equal to any in the west.

THE DELAWARE GRAPE.—This delightful grape has, after eight years trial, proved to be better and to possess more good qualities than its most partial friends ever claimed for it. It was first disseminated from Delaware, Ohio, where the original vine is now to be found. It has been known in that locality for thirty years, and during that while time it has never received the least injury from the most severe winters. The fruit has never mildewed, nor rotted, and it has stood the cold with the thermometer at 27° below zero, when the Clinton, which has always been considered a perfectly hardy grape, was killed to the root, along side of its young vines in this city, that were not larger than a straw and without any protection, have come out alive to the top bud.

The clusters and fruit are of medium size, is free from pulp or foxiness. It has a high vinous sugary flavor, it ripens about three weeks in advance of the Isabella, it is the standard of excellence among grapes, it has never received anything but commendation from all parts of the union, it excels every other grape in productiveness and is succeeding the Catawba on the Ohio river in vineyard culture.

Mrs. DEMING'S Concert will take place at Lippin's Hall on Wednesday evening.

To-night is the night of the monthly meeting of the Light Guard. Let there be a full attendance.

LOST.—A package of bank bills amounting to fifty dollars was lost, yesterday afternoon, on this forenoon, in this city. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it with L. F. Patton, esq.,

Col. Lamon's Charleston Experience.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald gives the following account of Col. Lamon's experience in Charleston:

Col. Lamon does not hesitate to state his experience at Charleston, in regard to the modes of reaching Fort Sumter. He reached Charleston on Sunday morning, and booked himself as "Ward H. Lamon of Virginia." He did this because he ascertained that he could not reach Fort Sumter without a permit from Gov. Pickens, and could not get the governor until Monday morning, and in order not to make a target of himself for the curious for 24 hours, as he would have done had he announced himself from any other state. He was not annoyed until Monday morning, when a delegation of Charlestonians called upon him and inquired if his name was Lamon? He replied, "Yes, my name is Ward H. Lamon." They then asked him if he was a friend of President Lincoln? He replied that he was. He was then asked if he had any objection to tell them the object of his mission? He said he had objection, and added that he had important business with Gov. Pickens, with whom he was soon to have an interview; and if the governor wished to state to them the result of the same he could do so.

This put a stop to questions; but a strict watch was kept upon the Col., as if he was some infernal machine that had been thrown suddenly in their midst to destroy them. No insult was offered to him, however, but thousands of the Charlestonians assembled to gaze upon the representative and friend of "Old Abe," all wondering whether he was the messenger of peace or war.

Col. Lamon soon obtained an interview with Gov. Pickens, and informed him that he was bearer of despatches from President Lincoln to Major Anderson, and he wished to be allowed facilities to reach the fort. Gov. Pickens treated Col. Lamon with great courtesy, and promptly informed him that he should have a steamer in which to proceed to the fort, and immediately detailed Col. Duryea, one of the governor's staff, to accompany him to the fort, where he was introduced to Major Anderson and the other officers in the fort. Col. Lamon and Major Anderson then left Col. Duryea to be entertained by the other officers, and proceeded to private quarters, where an interview of several hours was had, the result of which has been reported to the president, and will be the subject of an official communication from the President in a few days.

Accordingly, everything was provided as indicated, and the fort was reached. Col. Lamon invited Col. Thirty-Two Banks Rejected.

At a meeting of our bankers this evening, it was decided to throw out thirty-two Illinois banks on Monday morning. The reasons which induced this policy are stated at length on the first page. As they have been practically thrown out all over the country, and their bills were coming in upon our bankers in packages of thousands of dollars, it was the only course that was left them.

The following list embraces the banks now thrown out, and the nine heretofore rejected, with the amount and the value per dollar of their circulation on the 31st of January last, as given in the valuable report of Hon. S. A. Hurlbut, chairman of the committee of banks and corporations, made to the legislature on the 11th of February. The value of the bills will not vary materially from the figures here given. We shall publish a list of the prices at which they are bought, as soon as it is decided at what rates the brokers will buy them.

RENEWED THREATS AGAINST WASHINGTON.—The following paragraph is from the Charleston correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch of the 20th inst.

All the high officials of the military have been called suddenly to Montgomery—what for, no one knows, but it is thought by well informed men, that it is to arrange the army, and have the officers assigned, and to consult as to future operations. I hear that in a few weeks, at most, one hundred thousand men, many of them veterans, will be ready for extraordinary service, and plenty left to take care of the mercenary northern soldiers, who may be sent off "down south" to get clear of them at home. If the people of Washington city only did but know what a few of us here know, they would hardly "return back to take their clothes." Well may Gen. Scott keep his hirelings there—he had better bring more there.

SENATOR DOOLITTLE.—The following notice of Senator Doolittle is taken from an article entitled "Two Nights in the senate," in Harper's Weekly, a paper particularly chary of its praise of republicans.

We copy it, although it does our able senator less than justice: DOOLITTLE, as a Debater.—Probably the most efficient republican senator in debate will be found to be Doolittle, of Wisconsin. His peculiar manner, as first that he speaks clearly, sensibly and quietly; and, secondly, that he knows how and when to sit down. This most difficult of all arts—the art of sitting down—he seems to have mastered. "Tis probably a natural gift.—At any rate he possesses it, and consequently he is always heard with attention.
